

on the go

people | places | events

saturday, april 15

DJJ PASSOVER

8 pm, April 15. "Let My People In: Refugee Voices and the Music of Daniel Kahn." Detroit Jews for Justice's celebration of Passover features a contemporary telling of liberation stories and songs of praise. Detroit-born, Berlin-based songwriter Daniel Kahn mixes klezmer music with "radical Yiddish song, political cabaret and punk folk." At Red Door Digital, 7500 Oakland, Detroit. $20-$60 sliding scale, or $10-$50 advance. Proceeds to Syrian American Rescue Network. RSVP: www.detroitjewsforjustice.org.

YOUNG ADULT PASSOVER

8-11 pm, April 15. The Well hosts evening for ages 22-39. Features Passover-inspired food by kosher caterer Chef Cari, Blue Nectar Tequila tasting, music, theater, interactive art and chance to explore the DIA's Ancient Egypt exhibit and Kresge Court. At Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward. $25. Space is limited. RSVP: <https://temple-israel.org/thewellpassover>.

sunday, april 16

MEDITATION & MINDFULNESS

9:30-10:30 am, April 16. Rabbi Aaron Bergman leads program "designed to help individuals find their internal spirituality and realize that Judaism can make them happier." At Adat Shalom Synagogue, Farmington Hills. Free. Info: 248-851-5100.

monday, april 17

PASSOVER AT EMANU-EL

10:30 am, April 17. Passover morning and Yizkor service will be held. At Temple Emanu-El, Oak Park. Info: 248-967-4020 or templefamily@emanuel-mich.org.

editor's picks

Lynne Konstantin
Arts & Life Editor

APRIL 23

ITAMAR ZORMAN

Prize-winning Israeli violinist Itamar Zorman, a founding member of the Israeli Chamber Project, holds degrees from the Jerusalem Academy of Music, the Juilliard School and the Manhattan School of Music. Along with pianist Pauline Martin, Chamber Soloists of Detroit artistic director, he performs a program called Memories, including Dvorak's Songs My Mother Taught Me, Yizkor (Evocation) by Paul Ben-Haim, an homage to Charlie Chaplin with a medley of film music for solo violin by Moshe Zorman (Itamar's father) and more. $30, includes pre-concert reception. St. John Lutheran Church, Farmington Hills. (586) 944-5353; chambersoloistsdetroit.org.

THROUGH MAY 4: DEFIANT REQUIEM AND MORE

The Defiant Requiem: Verdi at Terezin, a multimedia performance telling the story of Jewish prisoners in Theresienstadt who performed Verdi's Requiem Mass, will premier in Michigan, accompanied by the DSO, on May 4. Events leading up to the performance include: The Music and the Meaning of The Defiant Requiem, an insider's look at the performance (April 19 at Cong. Shaarey Zedek); The "Model" Concentration Camp Theresienstadt with Dr. Amy Simon, who discusses the camp's role in Nazi propaganda and its effect on the inhabitants (April 26 at CSZ); documentary film Defiant Requiem telling the story of Rafael Schachter, Czech conductor and leader of the Mass performances (April 30 at the Berman Center for Performing Arts); discussion with creator and conductor Murry Sidlin (May 1, CSZ); and The Butterfly: An Art Exhibition, a collection of children's depictions of butterflies, inspired by the 1942 poem "The Butterfly," written by a child in a concentration camp (through May 4, CSZ). (248) 357-5544.

APRIL 19: LEONARD SLATKIN

The Community House in Birmingham launches CultureTalks, a lecture series featuring local cultural mavericks discussing their role in the community. First up: Leonard Slatkin, music director of the DSO, speaks at 6 p.m. Wednesday, April 19, followed by weekly lectures by Steve Wogaman of the Chamber Music Society of Detroit, Salvador Salort-Pons of the DIA, Robert Bury, director of the Detroit Historical Society and a performance by Michigan Opera Theatre Studio. $15 for individual tickets; $50 for the series. (248) 594-6416; communityhouse.com.

wednesday, april 19

IRVING BERLIN MUSIC

April 19-May 14. I Love a Piano features the all-American songs of composer Irving Berlin. At Meadow Brook Theatre, 207 Wilson Hall, Rochester. Tickets: www.mbtheatre.com or 248-377-3300.

SHORT READINGS

10 am, April 19. Barry V. Levine discusses "Zagrowsky Tells" by Grace Paley at "Traditional Tales We Wag at One Another," his monthly series of short reading selections. At Cong. B'nai Moshe, West Bloomfield. Free; community is welcome. RSVP: 248-788-0600.

MAH JONGG

12:30 pm, April 19 & 26. Sisterhood sponsors. At Cong. Beth Shalom, Oak Park. $2. Info: 248-547-7970.

PASSOVER LEARNING

1 pm, April 19. "Miriam and Moses as Models of Leadership: What We Can Learn from Passover" is a video lecture by Rabbi Elana Stein Hahn of Shalom Hartman Institute in Jerusalem. Part of "Drop In & Learn," a weekly series featuring video-streamed lectures on topics of Jewish interest. Nancy Kaplan will lead a brief discussion following. At Cong. Beth Ahm, West Bloomfield. Free. No RSVP needed. Info: nancyellen879@att.net or 248-737-1931.

JEWISH RITUAL & HEALTH

1-2:15 pm, April 19. "The Powerful Impact of Jewish Ritual Observation on Body, Mind and Soul." Mind University offers workshop with Rabbi Joseph Krakoff, senior director of Jewish Hospice & Chaplaincy Network. At Jewish Family Service, 6555 W. Maple, West Bloomfield. Free. RSVP: Angela, apopoff@jfsdetroit.org or 248-592-2671.

JCC MOVIE MATINEE

1:15 pm, April 19. The Active Life Program will show Singin' in The Rain. At the JCC, West Bloomfield. Free. Info: Rosa, rchessler@jccdet.org or 248-432-5467.

ANNE FRANK EXHIBIT

1:30 pm, April 19. Docent-led tour of special exhibit, "Anne Frank: A History for Today." At Holocaust Memorial Center, 28123 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington Hills. Free with museum admission or for member. RSVP: 248-553-2400, ext. 110.

continued on page 46

2017 Michigan Modernism Art and Antiques Show

Friday, April 21 - Sunday, April 23

The Southfield Pavilion - 26000 Evergreen Rd. Southfield

FRIDAY — PREVIEW PARTY

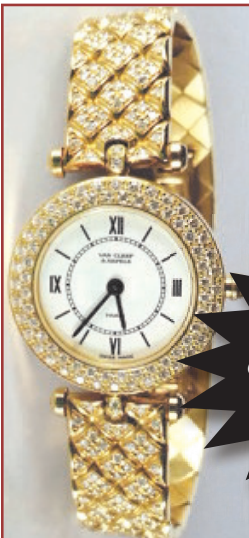

with Live Music • Wine • Gourmet Fare

APRIL 21ST 6PM - 9/30PM

ADMISSION $75 — ADVANCE TICKET PURCHASE: EVENTBRITE.COM

APPRAISALS ON-SITE

<http://mitchelldisplays.com/shows/michigan-modernism-exposition/>

MEET AUTHOR
BRIAN CONWAY
CHAMPAGNE RECEPTION
& BOOK SIGNING
SATURDAY, 3PM - 5PM
(BOOK ON SALE DURING SHOW)

